

The essence of the MEDIDENT - International Fair of Medicine and Stomatology, the oldest and largest regional fair event of its kind, is health in the broadest sense of the word, prevention, modern methods of treatment and promotion of scientific achievements in all segments of medicine and dentistry.

With its representative offer of mainly dental, but also other medical and laboratory equipment and resources, pharmaceutical and other products and services, Medident is the fair support of the entire profession and accompanying related industries.

Large and small exhibitors and clinics present their products and services from a wide range of exhibition, professional and promotional programs

Through presentations, seminars, and demonstration exercises, Medident offers both current professional medical knowledge and practical training and experience in dental practice and other branches of medicine.

In addition to its professional character, Medident also shows its humanitarian character by welcoming visitors with numerous promotions, presentations and discounts, free examinations, massage treatments, various demonstration exercises, short promotional and educational programs, and other useful services from various fields of medicine.
